Security Guard

We are a development company currently refurbishing a luxury 5* hotel in Heckfield, Hampshire. We are looking for a security guard to work in a team which is responsible for security at the site. The position is ideal for a retired police officer. The successful candidate will be the first point of contact at the entrance so the candidate must be professional and well presented. The role will include greeting visitors at the entrance and ensuring a smooth arrival to the site particularly for VIP's who will be visiting the hotel during the course of the refurbishment project. This is a full time position and the candidate will not be required to work night shifts. There is a prospect of being directly employed by the hotel company within their security team once the hotel re-opens. Please contact Yvonne Arigho-Crockett on 01189 073251 or yvonne.arigho-crockett@operisconstruction.co.uk if you are interested in the position. Full time, part time and self employed home visit officers needed in all regions of the UK paying between £50 to £200 per visit. Blue Sky is the leading player in the financial mis-selling and debt management market helping around 5000 clients per month. Blue Sky is looking for enthusiastic, articulate, self motivated and committed individuals to join our growing team helping consumers receive their money back from their bank and or to help our clients reduce their monthly outgoings to affordable amounts. Your role will be to - Visit the client at home to complete our fact find (two pages) - Sign our two agreements - Collect various documents (that the client should have already prepared) - Collect two forms of ID. Refer our client back to head office if they need debt management advice. Each home visit should take 10 to 15 minutes. You will need your own transport and computer with internet access. A smartphone i.e. blackberry or Iphone, would be ideal to take instructions whilst out in the field. You will be given up to 8 jobs per day within an easy drive of each other for as many days as you are contracted to work. You will have the flexibility of moving appointments yourself to suite your own diary. Due to the nature of the job a number of appointments may be in the early evening. This self employed position pays at the rate of £20 per pick up where all the documents are completed correctly. We also have other opportunities for you to earn extra bonuses that usually add around £50 to £200 per visit. For example 98% of clients refer us to their friends and family. Your role will be to collate the client's friends and family and you will receive an extra bonus of £20 per client if we call them and they accept our services (it's likely that you will be asked to sign up this client as well). If you were to call the client, you would receive a £50 bonus, plus the signup fee of £20. If the client is in need of debt management advice and which results in them entering into a debt management plan, then you will receive a bonus of £50 (1 in 5 of our clients take this advice). Around 1 in 4 of our clients sign up to our bank account, which takes a further 2 minutes and pays a commission of £10. Our home visit officers can earn between £50 to £200 per home visit, making this, potentially, a highly profitable scheme.
